

RIPPLE EFFECT:

METAPHORS AND CORE CONCEPTS FOR UNDERSTANDING TRAUMA

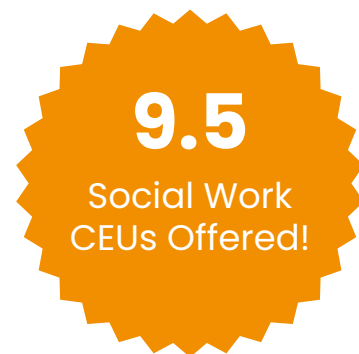

This training is intended for community behavioral health providers, CYFD staff, and other stakeholders who work with children, youth, and families. This training meets the CYFD & HSD Trauma Responsive Training Requirements.

TRAINING DESCRIPTION:

This 2-day free virtual training event presents an integrative framework for understanding and communicating across systems about how trauma can affect a child, a family, and a system. The Ripple Effect translates complex trauma concepts using metaphor, visual models, common language, and rich case examples.

VIRTUAL TRAINING DATES:

May 6-7, 2025 | 9:00AM-2:30PM MST Each Day

PRESENTED BY:

Chandra Ghosh Ippen, Ph.D.

- Chandra is a child psychologist, children's book author, and currently the Associate Director of the Child Trauma Research Program at the University of California, San Francisco and the Director of Dissemination and Implementation for Child-Parent Psychotherapy (CPP).
